OVERVIEW

TEDx events are volunteer-led, non-profit initiatives organized by academic institutions & local communities. More than 27,000 TEDx events have been held globally.

The purpose of TEDx is to spark conversation, connection, and community. It lacks any commercial, religious, or political agenda. TEDx provides a platform for inspiring stories & voices to be heard, to share ideas, to learn from each other, and to connect community members.

An annual TED (Technology, Entertainment, Design) event is organized by the official TED organization once a year. Speakers at TED include Nobel prize laureates, academic researchers, political leaders, CEOs, and cultural leaders. TEDx events are similar but are locally organized by community members. Talks may include scientific, cultural, technology, entertainment, design, and academic topics.

OUR OBJECTIVE IS TO SPARK CONVERSATION ACROSS MCMASTER AND HAMILTON.

HUMAN—SUCH A SIMPLE WORD, YET IT CARRIES THE WEIGHT OF OUR ASPIRATIONS, STRUGGLES, AND INTERCONNECTEDNESS. IT IS ABOUT TIME TO UNCOVER ITS PROFOUND SIGNIFICANCE.

WE ARE LOOKING FOR PARTNERS

This event is not possible without the support and counsel of community leaders. By partnering with TEDxMcMasterU, you are also supporting the diffusion of ideas that our most innovative, passionate and resilient community members have to share. In return, we are happy to offer you with brand exposure and interactive experiences at our TEDx conference.

As an alternative to monetary support, we are also grateful for sponsorships or discounts on venues, printing, photography, videography, graphic design, website development, audio-visual lighting, catering services, banking services and swag!

BEING A TEDxMcMasterU PARTNER

We are grateful for your consideration in partnering with TEDxMcMasterU. We appreciate both in-kind and financial contributions in any amount. All funds go directly to the event and none of the organizers or speakers are paid with your contribution.
